ARTHUR DAYTON CROMWELL

Professor Emeritus of Education

—whose retirement has left a niche not soon to be filled. A man of keen intellect and indomitable courage, he has gained and held the respect and admiration of all those who have known him during his many years of service. The Class of 1935 is happy to have this opportunity to express its appreciation of his many contributions to the college and its traditions, both as a teacher and as a personality.

Born in Wallistown Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania. Has resided in West Chester for more than fifty years. At one time attended West Chester State Normal School as a student.

Registrar of the college since 1915.

Secretary of the Alumni Loan Fund. Carries on active correspondence with many alumni, and keeps a record of their activities out of purely personal interest. Probably has more friends among the alumni than any other person on the campus.

Member of the First Presbyterian Church of West Chester. Known as Uncle George to his friends.

Interests: Nature, hiking, reading, dramatics—active and passive, Chester County history and genealogy.

A delightful teller of tales.

DEDICATION

. for his long years of service, for his friendly helpfulness, for his ready wit and his even temper, for his character and understanding, for being always himself at his best, we dedicate this book to our friend, George Spencer Roberts.

FOREWORD

IN following the lead of our predecessors we feel amply justified in hoping that this book will serve to keep us, as alumni, closely bound to our college in interest and sympathy.

As the campus has been the center of our growth and friendships during the past four years, we have used it as the nucleus of our record. We have tried to keep this our book by making it a product of our own abilities and workmanship in every phase, from inspiration to publication.

It is our hope that our record book will not only help us to relive these eventful years within ourselves, but that it will also stimulate us to keep fresh those bonds of friendship which we have formed here.

This scene presents itself to the traveler as he moves southward on the Wilmington Pike after having passed the beautiful Philips Memorial Chapel. The sign marks the entrance to the driveway leading to the Main Dormitory and to the quadrangle beyond. In the background may be seen the girls' tennis courts.

"Main Dorm" at the time of its erection in 1871 was only one third of its present size. At that time it was the center of all student life on the campus. It housed all living quarters, the dining room, chapel, library, class rooms, business offices, and piano rooms. The wings and annex were added in 1910. At present the building is used as a girls' dormitory. Besides living quarters, it contains the college dining room, piano rooms, and social rooms.

The Philips Memorial Library, located on the second floor of the Memorial Chapel, contains a very valuable collection of books. This collection was started by Dr. George Morris Philips while he was principal of the school. It is being added to constantly and, with its three thousand volumes, is at present the largest autographed library in the world. Writers and statesmen of all nationalities are represented here.

This building, generally called "The Old Gym," at the time of its erection in 1890, was one of the finest gymnasiums of any college in the country. It houses the administrative offices of the Health Education department as well as a basketball court, an indoor track, swimming pool, and bowling alley. It is now used chiefly as the center of the girls' athletics and physical activities.

The new gymnasium, located on Byron Field, was named in honor of Dr. Claude T. Phinney, who was a pioneer in the field of Health Education. He was the first instructor in health and physical education on the campus. This building, erected in 1950, with a seating capacity of a thousand, is equipped with modern apparatus and the finest type of locker and shower rooms.

This beautiful colonial home on Rosedale Avenue has been endorsed by the state as the official residence of incumbent presidents of the college. Before 1925 the president's home was located where the Phillips Memorial Chapel now stands. The present property was in the possession of the school prior to 1930, at that time it was completely remodeled into the spacious home to be occupied by future college presidents.

This building was originally built for use as an isolation hospital for contagious diseases. At one time it served as an annex to the boys' dormitory and later as the housing quarters for the help at the college. During the spring and summer of 1933, the building was completely remodeled according to the plans laid out by the college physician. Today it is considered by health authorities to be a model college infirmary, and its equipment is second to none in the state.

Recitation Hall is one of the oldest buildings on the campus, having been erected in 1892. In this three-story building are centered practically all of the classroom activities on the campus. In addition to the classrooms, there are the art studios and the science laboratories, which are outfitted with modern equipment.

DR. NORMAN W. CAMERON

To the Class of 1955, Greetings:

YOURS is not just another graduating class. It represents a group of men and women who have been the individual subjects of the educational influences provided by an institution of higher learning. The processes of education are subtle, and their results vary. No two of you have undergone the same change. No two of you will be called upon to perform identical functions in society. However, as willing leaders, you will choose to use the powers you have developed for the good of humanity.

The kind of college education which you have secured will be measured by your civic and personal achievements. Those who have attempted to guide your college course will eagerly await your success in a world that demands the exercise of keen intelligence and courageous endeavor.

Most sincerely yours,

Norman W. Cameron

WINFIELD W. MENHENNETT, B.S., M.A.
Dean of Instruction

To the Members of the Class of 1955:

ANOTHER milestone in the development of your personality and in the attainment of those ideals which you have set up for yourself has been reached. Four years of college life and college training have produced marked changes and leave each one of you better equipped to meet successfully the many and varied problems of life which you must face.

The eternal varities, truth and reality, are a necessary and fundamental part of the equipment of each individual who hopes to achieve real success. You have come to know these and have made them a part of yourself. In your chosen profession these will be reflected constantly and will serve continually as the guiding principles both for yourself and for those whom you lead.

Today, as never before, society's call and need is for men and women who are to be real leaders. The call is a challenge to recognize the sterling worth of human life and the brotherhood of man and to serve in bringing about a better social order. To you who are destined to become the leaders in education, the issue is very clear. It is our cherished hope and belief that each of you will go forth to exemplify the virtues—honesty, truth, loyalty, noble love, and self-sacrificing service. We have placed our confidence and faith in you and in your abilities. May you come at last to the end of a happy and truly successful career with a feeling that all is well and that you have lived nobly and served truly.

Art Department

IN the art class the students learn to draw, paint, sketch, design, and to make objects in handicraft in ways that are helpful to the classroom teacher.

Lectures, pictures, and visits to museums and art galleries develop an aesthetic appreciation of art through the ages. All these are included in the courses in the history and appreciation of art.

The members of the art department also serve in an advisory capacity to students planning for stage productions and social affairs.

Visual Education

THE course in visual education emphasizes the various phases of still and motion pictures, specimen mounting, slide manufacture, visual projects of all types, and the conducting and financing of school journeys.

Probably the outstanding feature of the course is the trip to New York City, which gives excellent first hand knowledge of the methods as well as the possibilities for achievement in the school journey.

The course in handwriting gives the students a practical skill in writing and a knowledge of the principles of teaching others how to write.

Education Department

THE work of the Department of Education may be divided into four fields. The first course is an introduction to education. In this course a brief but comprehensive view of the entire field of education is given to acquaint the pupil with the nature of the problems in each field. Courses in psychology enable the prospective teacher to analyze and interpret the nature and behavior of pupils of various ages with whom he will be expected to work. The remaining courses give the prospective teacher a more thorough insight into past and present trends in education, so that he may formulate definite ideas concerning the needs and procedures in education. As a final step, the students study the technique of analyzing deficiencies in children's abilities and methods and technique of effective instruction in preparation for practice teaching, guided by the supervisors and the directors of practice teaching.

During the past year, the Education Department has extended its sphere by making a survey of educational conditions and needs in the college district. Problem children of West Chester have also been diagnosed and aided by student counselors to make better social and educational adjustments.

English Department

THE work of the English Department is extensive in scope, for it embraces training not only in all forms of verbal expression but also in appreciation and interpretation of the many types of literary expression. The English Department is attempting to develop students who speak and write correctly and clearly, who are proud of a nice use of their mother tongue, and who are unwilling to forego the culture that such a use furnishes.

A second aim of the department is to acquaint students with the best that has been written in English, laying emphasis on a literature which is helpful in building character and in creating high ideals. Along with this knowledge of books, the department hopes there will go a critical attitude and the ability to discriminate, which will result in a genuine love of good reading.

Lastly, the department tries to furnish students with some knowledge of methods and some training in the passing on of English skills and English culture.

Health and Physical Education

THE Department of Health and Physical Education provides wholesome physical activity for the entire student body, which will not only aid in keeping them well mentally and physically but will also provide a training in skills, which will be of great value to them when they are called upon to direct similar activities in the public schools of the Commonwealth. This department also conducts the special training of teachers of Health and Physical Education, which includes a four-year course, leading to a degree of Bachelor of Science in Education.

The members of the department staff not only coach the varsity teams but also conduct intramural competition in the form of extra-curricular activities. During the past year these activities were provided for both men and women, and participation was purely a voluntary affair. The men finished a very successful basketball tournament carried on during the winter term on Saturday afternoons. The women students in this department engaged in a program of intramural sports under the guidance of the women members of the department.

Besides sponsoring these programs, the faculty members act as guides for the senior Health and Physical Education students in putting on an exhibition of the work of the department.

The Library

ONE of the busiest places on the campus is the college library, where, each year, students are making increasing use of the excellent facilities provided. A study of the records shows that the number of books and periodicals circulated has more than doubled in the last five years.

With the additional help afforded by the students receiving F. E. R. A. assistance, the staff is trying to improve the library service in every possible way. The recataloging of the library, which has been in progress for several years, is now going ahead in a promising manner. The collection of pamphlets and clippings has been organized and made available for use, and the picture file is growing at the rate of about two thousand five hundred pictures a year.

A sample textbook collection is being assembled; this collection will give the students an opportunity to compare the merits of the various readers, geographies, and other texts.

From time to time, exhibits have been held in the library— one in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of public education in Pennsylvania, in which old time school books and equipment were shown, and one of hobbies, loaned by children from the Demonstration School. There have also been exhibitions of different forms of art.

MISS RUSSELL

DR. STALEY, MISS GEYER

French and Latin

THE first French course places emphasis upon vocal exercises, the theory of individual sounds, intonation, and conversation. That of the next two semesters centers around the written language and prepares for free composition and note-taking at lectures given in French. In these courses there are introduced discussions on method and on reading from novels of the nineteenth century. The literary courses that follow include a study of romanticism and of seventeenth century prose and drama. The most advanced students discuss problems in language teaching as presented in current magazines, write free compositions, and read the philosophers of the eighteenth century and several regional novels of the twentieth.

Each Latin course consists of a reading unit, a composition unit, a unit methods, and one in Roman civilization. Intensive reading includes the works of Ovid, Livy, Cicero, Horace, Plautus and Terence. A survey course takes in Latin literature as a whole and presents authors not previously met. The composition is based on Livy and Cicero's essays, and one course offers a review of items that are to be used in the teaching of Caesar and Cicero in high schools.

Students in both French and Latin are encouraged to extend their thinking over points of contact existing between French and Latin literature and the other great literatures of the world.

Science

THE Science Department seeks to develop in the student body the scientific attitude of the mind toward all problems, and to train a limited number of students to teach one or more of the several sciences.

During this particular year attention has been given to some phases of biological and zoological microscopic slides. Each day, in a recently completed laboratory, a number of biology students are learning, under expert guidance, the many practical and theoretical aspects of slide making.

A very important conference of teachers in the field of science met last November at West Chester. Seventy men of science from many of the teachers colleges of nine states gathered to discuss the science curricula for the regular classroom teacher and for the prospective teachers of the junior and senior high school. Dr. John C. Johnson of West Chester State Teachers College was elected president of the conference for the year.

Music—Theory

THE recent change in the curricula of all courses in the State Teachers Colleges brought to the entire student body a course in music history and appreciation, providing a cultural background for the better knowledge of the fine art of music.

A course in music for elementary, intermediate, and rural groups is also taught, preparing the students for the teaching of music in the grades. This, combined with skilled supervision, brings the music in the schools of the Commonwealth to a really high standard of excellence.

The music department, however, specializes in the teaching of the subjects in the Music Education course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Public School Music. After completing the specified course, the students are very adequately prepared to teach or supervise music in both the vocal and instrumental fields in the elementary, junior, and senior high schools.

Music—Studio

THE delightful and artistic Faculty Recital given by this group is ever a much anticipated and outstanding event of the season.

High standard of tonal beauty and form, the objective of the teaching in this department, is made possible by individual lessons in voice, piano, and organ.

The studio teachers contribute to the college activities and to the community by aiding students in selecting and preparing musical numbers for numerous programs on and off the campus. Several Studio Recitals are given by the students during the year to prepare them for public performances.

This ideal of tonal beauty and form, coupled with music courses that are pursued in the Theory department, makes for the attainment of its mission: the spread of the gospel of good music.

Supervisors of Student Teaching

STUDENT Teaching is a period of apprenticeship for the prospective teacher. It provides opportunities for the novice to observe, to participate, and to teach under the sympathetic guidance of master teachers.

The college does not maintain its own training school, as some teacher training institutions do, but uses the regular schools of the city of West Chester and suburban areas for training students. Approximately fifty teachers in these schools are designated as cooperating teachers. They cooperate with a staff of supervisors from the college in organizing and directing the activities of the students.

A supervisor of student teaching is provided by the college for each of the following groups of students: Primary, Intermediate, Rural, Secondary, Music, and Physical Education. The supervisors assign the students to suitable teaching situations and confer with the cooperating teachers relative to the work the students are to do. They direct the students in their observations and participation and give instructions in the principles of teaching.

DR. DAILY

MR. SWOPE, DR. HEATHCOTE, DR. WRIGHT

Social Studies

THIS department was formerly known as the Department of History. Under the new classification it became known as the Department of Social Studies. This classification includes those subjects which deal with social institutions and human reactions to them. While there is not general agreement as to all of the curricular subjects which should be included under the category, nevertheless, those generally accepted are history, sociology, economics, politics, civics, religion, and ethics. All studies which involve investigations and research work in human relations help to lay the foundations to explain the meaning of history.

To know and to interpret these human activities is the task of the historian. He must understand the motives, objectives, aims, and ideals of the social, political, economic, intellectual, and ethical experiences with an open and unprejudiced mind.

These facts must be faced earnestly, courageously, sympathetically, and sincerely; and the philosophy to be developed must not be fallacious, but it must be built upon premises which warrant the conclusion.

The interpretation of history by the teacher will help to determine the future status of the nation.

DR. HEATHCOTE

DR. ANDERSON, MISS BULL, MISS HOLLAND

Mathematics Department

THE Mathematics Department offers to students whose major interest is in that particular field courses in sequence through calculus. Students may also take some courses that have as their aim, professionalized subject matter. For those in the secondary field, courses pertain directly to the mathematics that is taught in the junior and senior high school. They are conducted not only to provide for the mastery of the subject matter taught, but also to prepare for the teaching of high school mathematics.

The principles of teaching that are studied in the classrooms are illustrated in the demonstration school, where students have numerous opportunities to observe arithmetic and mathematics classes that are being taught in the elementary grades and in the junior high school.

The various courses offered by the department are pursued, for the most part, in the classroom, but in the spring one often sees small groups working with the transit, taking data for a map of the campus, or finding elevations of various points. In several instances when changes have been made on or around the campus, the students of mathematics have aided materially in making preliminary surveys.

The Demonstration School

THE Demonstration School is an important factor in the program of teacher training. Its purpose is to contribute to the education of teachers for kindergarten, elementary, and secondary schools by demonstrating progressive movements in the education of children. The activities of the children are directed by teachers who are selected because of their ability to carry on demonstration programs. Here the prospective teachers observe pupils and teachers engaged in many types of learning activities.

Until recently the school included only kindergarten and the first six grades of the elementary school. Because of the increased enrollment in the secondary education group of the college, the school has been expanded to include the junior high school grades.

While the major purpose of the Demonstration School is the initial preparation of teachers, the school directs its attention also to further preparation of teachers in service. An innovation of the past year is the Saturday morning sessions, which have been held for the benefit of teachers of surrounding counties. Capacity crowds, which have packed the classrooms, indicate the popular demand for such programs.

Student Health

HEALTH problems are constantly presenting themselves on the campus, and frequently they are of a serious nature. Many colleges have felt the need of some systematic method of dealing with health conditions among their students. It has been the experience of the majority of our universities and colleges that the ideal way of handling such problems is through an official health organization designed for this purpose. Such an organization is especially important in a teacher training institution. It serves as a vital link in the chain of public health teaching. As an example to her pupils, the teacher must know what health means and also the procedure by which it may be obtained.

It was with these thoughts in mind that the President and Board of Trustees sponsored the establishment in the College of a Student Health Service, the first in any of the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges. The purpose of the Health Service is two-fold: first, to guard the health of the student while in college and to help the student obtain the greatest degree of physical efficiency; and second, to develop in students who are to become future teachers proper scientific health attitudes and habits, so that they may be able to take part as intelligent citizens in community health work.

M. FERN BARRER

OUR play is ended, but the theme lives on. Sincerely we thank Miss Barrer, who, in her full days, has found time to help us make that theme more meaningful. She has given us guidance, inspiration, and friendship; and real friendships "are not glass threads or frostwork, but the solidest thing we know".

Diary of a Senior

September 8, 1931

With vague impressions of green campus, green buildings, numerous halls and rooms, bothersome luggage and many people hurrying about, the Senior went through the process of registering. Still in a daze, he received his schedule. He was frightened but a trifle thrilled at the prospect of taking such difficult but collegiate courses.

The flowing white robes he donned to get his physical examination, and the high C's he tried to reach when his voice was tested helped him to feel that his life was not going along in the same smooth path it had been taking at high school.

Almost sentimentally he spoke to other fellow sufferers of what they did at his school and his town. "And you're from Somewhere, Pa.? Well, well, do you know Grace Anybody?"

September 9, 1931

Tests, tests, and more tests! Armed with the little information he had picked up and could remember from his previous schooling, he felt like David attacking the giant.

At night—the Freshman Reception. A long line of important personages, who tried to pronounce his name. These were the faculty. He looked at them more closely and felt relieved when he saw that they were human.

The soft music, the dances with other people who were facing the same problems as he was, the happy atmosphere of people having a good time—all made a successful ending to a day which had started in a maze of uncertainties.

September 11, 1931

After a rush to try to find the right room, he entered his first class—the first real college class, the first genuine college professor, and the first large college assignment.

September 14, 1931

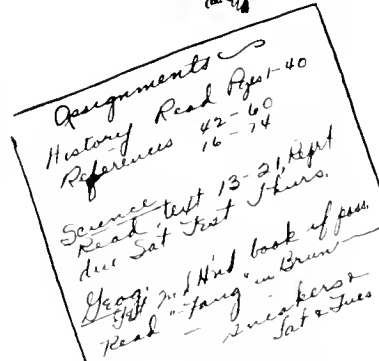

Days of confusion and disappointments! The upperclassmen tried to help by telling him the idiosyncrasies of his various teachers, by making him familiar with the various rules and regulations, and by giving him a few pointers about West Chester in general. With all this information he had acquired, he felt quite capable of helping the new Dean of Women acclimate herself to West Chester. He had a sneaking suspicion that that was the purpose of the Freshman Conferences.

"Regs" attempted, through different methods, to help him arrive at the same goal.

November, 1931

After weeks of preparation and anticipation,—the night of the pajama parade. Under the whip of the sharp tongues of the Sophomores, he was victor in the combats of singing, running, jumping, and shouting in the Quadrangle. He was urged on by the hundreds of girls standing and sitting on the fire escapes. But he came out on top, a good sport.

He entertained the upperclassmen between halves at a football game. Refreshments were not served, but a good time was had by all.

And so until January

November 24, 1931

The first vacation at home! Tales of the strange customs and stranger people at school. All this was told with an air of bravado as of one who understood and was a part of and in it.

December 22, 1931

In a corner of his mind where the jewels of memories burn with deep purples, reds, yellows, and greens is a crystal cut to perfection and shining gloriously—the first White Supper and Carol Service.

January 18, 1932

Beginning of the second semester with resolutions to really study.

March 4, 1932

The beginning of term papers. Proudly he called them "Research Papers".

Long hours in the library taking copious notes. The feeling of kinship with the upperclassmen who had already done the difficult, almost impossible task and had survived—to write others.

May 19, 1932

As he looked back over the year, he felt he had accomplished something.

Under the leadership of Lawson Earl and the guidance of Miss Fern Barrer and Mr. C. Van Dyke Conover, his class was organized and was ready for action.

Already he was represented on the athletic field, on the stage, and in the journalistic group. Already, in certain parts, the glimmers of brilliancy shone.

Within him, too, he felt the bond between him and his school growing stronger.

September 12, 1932

The warmth of friendly faces and a familiar campus. The thrill of finding "majors" and "minors" on his schedule card. The aloof sympathy with which he directed the "green frosh."

November, 1932

The meetings of the Sophomore Class, where plans for something different to be done were discussed. Secretary Helen Tapper took notes on our discussions, and President Clyde Dalton tried to keep the proceedings as nearly as possible according to the parliamentary rules learned in the freshman course of English activities. Quiet fell on the group as Treasurer William Corsen announced that the bills for class dues would be in the mails soon.

December 9, 1932

"Something different"—a dinner and dance at the "Four Horsemen Club" near Media. As he came back to West Chester in the bus, a surge of real happiness made him want to shout in defiance of anything which might come.

January, 1933

"Aryan, Aryan?" and "The Moore the merrier" heralded the "rush" days of the literary societies.

This year, he helped in contributing splendidly to the gala productions.

May 25, 1933

On this last day of his sophomore year, he gazed with awe at the seniors who were going to graduate. Even though he wanted to get home, he felt a desire to stay on campus to see Commencement.

September 13, 1933

Already thoughts of the senior year made him watch the seniors closely to see how they acted under the pressure of student teaching and how they acquired a professional dignity. With an air of importance, he chose the right electives for his schedule. Now he had an aim for it all.

October, 1933

He was definitely an important part of the victorious football squad.

November 18, 1933

He helped to make the first Family Reunion Week-end a success. He was on the football team which won the game. He was in the band. "The Dover Road" was splendidly and beautifully portrayed with the addition of his interpretation.

November 25, 1933

Dressed in evening regalia, armed with a passport, he went aboard the good ship, "Junior Prom" (Recreation Hall). To the music of jolly sailors (The College Criterions) and the rocking of the ship by the riotous crew, (The Junior Class), he danced and was merry. It could not be merely fancy which made him see large, salty waves dash against round portholes!

December, 1933

The Ehinger gymnasium rang with the shouts of enthusiastic basketball fans, as he made the scores mount higher and higher a la Earl, Messikomer, Beaver, and Howard.

January, 1934

The scramble for free electives. "To take or not to take"—that was the question.

March, 1934

Negotiations for a hay ride were started. But as the able President Smith said, "The hay wasn't what it used to be," and the plans had to be dropped.

May 27, 1934

Was the Spring more beautiful that year, or was the work more interesting, or was it because West Chester had sunk deeply into the marrow of his bones, that made him more reluctant than ever to leave behind him his Junior year?

September 12, 1934

With almost a reversion to his freshman days, a blanket of uncertainty covered him on registration day of his senior year. Student-teaching loomed ahead of him—something he had worked toward for four years. This was the test. Would it be failure or success?

September 14, 1934

The first meeting with supervisors. The attempt to look professional. Assignments. The beginning of long tramps, part of the daily routine of the Student-Teacher.

September 24, 1934

For the first time he felt the exhilarations of controlling a class. Now he was sure he wanted to be a teacher.

September 26, 1934

At class meeting President Purcell introduced a new faculty adviser, "Uncle Ned," who was to take the place of Mr. Conover. His motif was composed of longer sleigh rides with hotter oyster stews as the grand finale. Such understanding had to be rewarded. Senior acclaimed "Uncle Ned" as a virtuoso of class advisers.

September 27, 1934

Conversational themes—"my" class, "my" lesson plan, "my" supervisor.

September 28, 1934

The first time he found himself being observed. The kink in the lesson which would not be ironed out. The boy who had to giggle at the wrong time.

October 18, 1934

"Look at the birdie!" How unnatural and uncomfortable he felt as he faced the camera for his Serpentine picture. He turned his neck this way and that, tilted his nose higher and lower.

October 26, 1935

A little student-teaching is a dangerous thing. After a month, he felt experienced, a seasoned teacher. Critically he evaluated his old pros to come to unfavorable conclusions about them and very favorable conclusions about himself.

November 29, 1934

A little more student-teaching is a helpful thing. The problems which confronted him mirrored for him what he was and what he wanted to be.

December 21, 1934

He was not sentimental about his last White Supper and Carol Service. It was the cold night wind which made his voice a trifle husky as he talked to his friends, walking from the Chapel.

January 28, 1935

The snow was smoothly packed on roads and streets. The sleighs were small and not altogether stable. The moon beams guided the horses briskly through the icy stillness.

Results—the senior sleigh ride. Casualties—none.

February 1, 1935

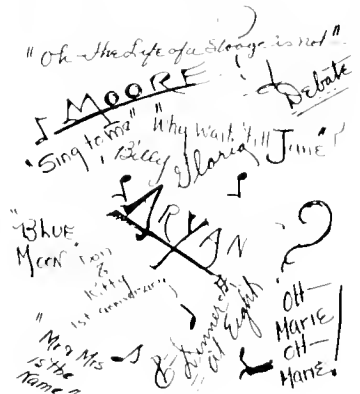

He influenced the Moore and Aryan Rush programs. They were bigger and funnier than ever.

March 2, 1935

In his last basketball game he made a fine showing against Kutztown. He felt he had cut a niche which would not be easy to fill.

March 21, 1935

He was responsible for the gigantic, stupendous, breath-taking circus. The crowds gasped at the death-defying acrobats, laughed at the silly clowns, and admired the interpretations of the statuary and dancing.

March 22, 1935

Announcement of Senior Week-end. Calls for tryouts for the Senior musical comedy.

The last nine weeks before him, busier and fuller, the last lap of the educational route leading to his first degree. Importantly he strutted past the underclassmen.

His mail box held his future. The application to be filled out. The contract to be signed.

April 12, 1935

At the Senior Recital, he was given an opportunity to display his musical talents.

May 3, 1935

For days he was anticipating his senior week-end, and now it was here.

The Formal, a badge of maturity, when he danced in a spring-like atmosphere, from nine until two. The beauty of movement and music.

May 4, 1935

The Tea Dance—he caught the implication of sophistication and nonchalance that the name gave.

After the Banquet, Philadelphia and the theatre. Enchantment of the harmony of reality and unreality.

At 1 A. M. he knew the luxury of weariness from play. Senior Week-end was gone, but it would not be forgotten easily.

May 24, 1935

A new idea—the Senior Chapel. In his cap and gown for the first time, he marched down the aisle for chapel exercises he had planned and was to lead.

A hurried goodbye to the underclassmen, and for the first time in the history of the college, the campus belonged to only the four-year seniors.

May 25, 1935

The Alumni—many strange faces to Senior, but to them, the campus must be familiar.

The impressiveness of belonging to that great group of men and women. Would he live up to their highest ideals?

May 26, 1935

Baccalaureate Day—mentally he commented, "A religious service softens the edges of the final note of college."

May 27, 1935

Class Day—a day for friendship and fun. From the jollity of the senior breakfast and the musical comedy to the seriousness of the tree planting exercises and the lantern procession, he felt the bond which held him to the college tighten rather than loosen.

May 28, 1935

Together for the last time.

The solemnity of the black caps and gowns. The faculty, aloof, academic figures.

At noon he received his degree. The high noon of life—Commencement.

As he drove out of the Quadrangle in the late afternoon, he looked back on the campus and his Alma Mater. His eyes followed the line of the graceful turrets of the Chapel which had caught the glory of the sinking sun. Somewhere up there were the dreams and aspirations from which he was to make his life.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

IT was the morning of his first day at West Chester, and Junior was going to his first class. He wore a beautiful black tie and a cap of verdant green, and he smiled at all who displayed the royal insignia of his order.

First came an English class, where Junior discovered a new part of speech. Then came science and history and the list of conventional subjects, and he began to find out that he had not learned everything in high school. Also, it was not long before he became interested in the social life of the college; he went to the Varsity Dance, bought a bag of peanuts at the Health Ed circus, and saw some football games.

By the time the second semester began, Junior was quite at home. He felt better, now that he did not have to wear his green cap anymore. He was making a place for himself! They appointed him to serve on the Freshman Dance Committee; it would be the first social venture of the new class. As it happened, the dance was a big success, and the school was very proud of Junior. He had done well.

Next autumn brought new classes and new Freshmen. Junior was a Sophomore now! He grinned and felt important every time one of the frosh saluted him. He was growing patriotic, too. Whenever a cheer echoed over Wayne Field, you might be sure that Junior was close by, helping the fellows on to victory.

The two big events of the Sophomore year were the Sophomore Play and Dance and the class picnic at Darlington Seminary. At the play, Junior was one of the "noises off stage"; at the picnic he won the ping-pong tournament.

The next autumn Junior came into his own. He believed that he had found himself. His days became a succession of new and surprising adventures. Within his own soul he knew he had begun to discover something. He had a new life, and a firm belief that his place in the college was an increasingly important one.

The Junior Prom was the biggest event of three years at West Chester. Silver and black decorations and lilting music made it a night to be remembered. Junior felt strangely happy as he mounted the steps of Recreation Hall. He had a feeling of just beginning something. College life was brighter for him now than ever before. He had found interest in his studies, fun in his social life, and a wealth of friends he would never forget. He could study, play, and eat with the same appetite.

At the top of the steps he turned and stood watching the happy faces of his classmates as they came toward him. And suddenly, he was more than one of them; he was the symbol of all of them. He was the class itself. He echoed the question that they all unconsciously asked:

"What will the future bring?"

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

SLOWLY the freshman merged into the sophomore. He had come to West Chester in September, 1955, with a very hazy idea of college. With an equally bewildered roommate he had floundered about in the dining-room and in Recitation Hall. Sermons on life were preached to him by serious-faced upper-classmen. He had chased all over Wayne Hall, searching frantically for the lowest-priced books, no matter what their appearance. He had gone to the Freshman Reception and viewed the faculty in proximity, for a change. He had entered wholeheartedly into Freshman Stunt Night and was finally elected treasurer of the class. In rain and fog he had stood, firmly planted in the mud of Wayne Field, and cheered zealously for the teams of West Chester. When he attended the Junior Prom, he realized the actual beauty of college life and why it is so different from any other experience that he has ever known or ever will know. That was a hazy feeling of lightness, enveloped in an atmosphere of warm rhythm, contagious music, and sparkling steps. The Carol Service was a white, unforgettable memory, a shining procession of clear, white candles, a silence, a soft harmony of carols. The Senior Weekend was to him a thing-that-must-not-be-forgotten. Although it was an adolescent reaction to stimulating pleasure, the response evoked, thrilled him beyond anything he had ever known. His Senior High School Prom paled to nothingness. Through such experiences as these he acquired not merely a surface sophistication but an inner maturity that collegiate codes demand. Indubitably, he was a part of college.

September, 1954, found the Sophomore greeting a self-assured roommate. Together they went to chapel and were stimulated by the magic of the singing. The sophomore joined the Little Theatre Players and valiantly performed a small part in the play, "Journey's End." He went out for basketball, and although he merely sat on the bench, the junior would be a star player.

Life was different; life was sweet. Although the newness of things was missing, there was a sense of "belonging" that compensated. He was again chosen as class officer and did much to forward plans for a class dance to be held in March. He proved successfully that class spirit, although latent, could be developed; there was something deeper than a mere day-to-day mastery of class work and a mere casual acquaintanceship with others.

ANNA JACKSON
Secretary

The sophomore was learning many things—not only socially, physically, and mentally, but spiritually. He discovered that a sense of assurance is necessary for success, that a need for ideals is the only thing that encourages people at times, that sincerity can never be futile. Along with the fun of college life, of forgetting examinations and remembering dances, of making much of little and nothing of much, he found that college trains one to be an individual who can discern the difference between pleasure and its extremes, and study and its extremes.

The sophomore has other things to learn. College cannot teach him all the necessary requirements for life. But it can, and it is, instilling in him a certain ambitious desire to be more than just a meek freshman with worried eyes and hands behind his back, who hasn't the courage to face the egotism of life.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

SO this was college! This place where everybody seemed superior and yet was willing to lend a condescending but helping hand. That and much more was what the Freshman thought during his first week on the campus. Being a freshman in college was quite different from being a senior in high school. However, becoming accustomed to his insignificant position was not so hard at first. There were other things to worry him—for instance, the placement exams.

After all, there were a great many freshmen, and he was not so lonely. The freshmen were well organized. The class had a faculty adviser, Miss Anna Smith, and temporary officers: William Rineer, president; Edward Remorenko, vice-president; Helen Replogle, secretary; and George Lott, treasurer. Not long afterwards the actual freshman officers were elected; they were George Lott, president; Grace Walker, vice-president; Helen Replogle, secretary; and Edward Remorenko, treasurer.

Later on, being a freshman became a serious business. The regulations, such as wheeling baby-carriages and wearing lampshades, embarrassed him greatly, but the whole class took them nobly. Next year's freshmen would suffer as much—if not more.

The Freshman thought his class was outstanding. Three of his friends, Walter Clark, Richard Nye, and William Rineer made the varsity football team. Edward Otwell came out with honors in all the season's track meets. Leon Brandolph made the first team in soccer, and Joseph Carney and Alden Ramsdell also received soccer letters. Catherine Bogan was the best girl tennis player in college. The freshman basketball team made a good showing and promised some excellent varsity material for next year. Baseball, also, interested the freshman athletes.

The freshman had to join a club, so he joined two or three. A large percentage of the class made the Little Theatre Players, the glee clubs, and the Quad Angles staff. The freshman had talent as an entertainer on Stunt Night and in the Moore and Aryan shows.

EDWARD REMORENKO
Treasurer

College was not such a bad place after all. Vacations were always welcome, but being here was decidedly not a hardship. He was on friendly terms with the boys, with the teachers, and with some of the girls. Lessons were not so difficult as they might be, and the dances were even better than those in high school. The freshman hoped all four years at college would be as happy as this one.

Women Students' Cooperative Association

WITH three years of active service to look back upon, the Women Students Cooperative Association can begin to take stock of its accomplishments. Through this organization there has undeniably arisen a more comradely and congenial relationship among women students. It has fostered social life by sponsoring teas, dances, and parties. It has through its Open Forum meetings contributed educationally to the development of the women students of the college. Upperclassmen privileges have been secured, and through freshman regulations the standard of campus life and customs has been improved. By a consistent program of recognizing problems and constructively dealing with them, the association, under active student and faculty leadership, has accomplished much toward making West Chester college life more worthwhile.

The administration of the Women Students' Cooperative Association is in the form of an Advisory Board and two divisions, the Dormitory division and the Day Student division. The president and vice-president of both divisions are members of the board. Representatives from both divisions and faculty advisers complete the personnel of this body. Dormitory affairs are governed by a council composed of a president and a representative from each hall. Day student problems come to the attention of a council composed of four councilors and officers.

Men's Student Council

THE Men's Student Council is the governing voice of the men of the college. The members of the council are elected by the men students; the officers are elected by the council itself.

The organization makes and enforces all freshman regulations; it is the executor of the Student Body Constitution; and it is the body to which all student petitions are referred. It contributes to the social season by cooperating with the Women's Student Council in conducting the annual Mid-Winter Formal.

This is the first year that the Men's Council has been a part of this social function. This is another step toward friendlier relationship between the two councils, a movement still open for improvement in the future.

The Council has been most successful in creating a better feeling of fellowship among those men living in Wayne Hall. A higher standard of conduct has been maintained by the men with the result that more of them are beginning to realize their object in attending college.

Quad Angles

QUAD Angles, the official newspaper of the West Chester State Teachers College, is published weekly throughout the regular college year and bi-weekly during the summer session. Its staff is composed of students who have successfully met the try-out requirements of the editor and faculty adviser and who have maintained an acceptable average in their English studies.

Quad Angles has a three-fold function. As a newspaper, it serves to acquaint the faculty, student body, and friends of the college with coming events and notes of interest arising from and relating to the life of the college as well as to review, for those interested, activities that have proved themselves worthy of comment in retrospect. In that it gives due consideration to material presented by individuals other than staff members, Quad Angles fulfills its second function in acting as a vehicle of expression for students or faculty members who have worthwhile contributions to make regarding the thoughts, policies, and ideals of the college. Finally, Quad Angles serves to provide for its staff members valuable experience in publication work. The activities connected with its organization and composition offer an excellent preparation for the supervision of school publications.

With the close of the current semester, Quad Angles will have completed the third year of its existence. Each year has been marked by various improvements and innovations. During the past year the size of the paper has been almost doubled, and the staff has been stimulated to high standards of achievement by departmentalization and weekly meetings marked by self-criticism and self-evaluation.

The Moore Literary Society is planning a busy program for the second semester. The program will include a variety of activities, including a play, a concert, and a debate.

MOORE

THE Moore Literary Society was organized on October 4, 1871 by a group of students and teachers of the West Chester State Normal School. It was so called in honor of the first president of the Board of Trustees, the Reverend William E. Moore. In 1880 the society was granted a charter from the state of Pennsylvania. Since its organization, the Moore Literary Society has taken a prominent place in college life.

For years the Moore and Aryan Societies were the only clubs on the campus and were responsible for all campus activities. The Moore Society entertained with a program of diversified activities: music, readings, and debating. Their yearly anniversary programs have been extraordinary events, and through the years, outstanding personalities in the fields of art, literature, and drama have been presented.

This year the Moores have been especially active. In the fall they presented the successful Broadway comedy, "Big Hearted Herbert," which was enthusiastically received by faculty and students.

The anniversary program on October eighth was a never-to-be-forgotten affair, for the society presented Cornelia Otis Skinner, one of the world's finest dramatic readers, in a program of original character sketches.

The Rush Program is the big student production. This year they did an original musical comedy, "Southern Heirs." The program was especially interesting and much enjoyed by our friends.

For the success of the production special mention must be made of Thomas B. Smith for the libretto and tunes; Donald Luckenbill for the delightful orchestrations; William Burley for his organization; Eleanor Bieber and Paul Koehler for their attraction; "Stooge" Maiale and "Count" Apple for their almost successful duping of Mrs. (Bernice Howard) Vanderpool; the large chorus that supported the cast; and of the Moore orchestra.

These activities have proved, to interested students, the real value of the society. Friendship alone would make it worthwhile, but there are also many opportunities for active participation for those who are eager to share in them.

HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ARYAN SOCIETY CLEANED FROM ARCHIVES

The history of the Aryan Literary Society is a long and interesting one. It began in 1895 when a group of students organized the Sanskrit Society. This society was the forerunner of the Aryan Literary Society. The society was organized to promote the study of Sanskrit and to provide a forum for the discussion of literary and cultural matters. Over the years, the society has grown and changed, but its basic purpose has remained the same.

An Accurately Dated History of the Past VIA BACK PAGES

The Aryan Literary Society has a rich and varied history. It has been through many changes and challenges, but it has always remained a strong and active organization. The society has played a significant role in the cultural and intellectual life of the college. Its members have been instrumental in the development of the college's literary and cultural programs.

ARYANS TO AWARD MEDALS TO LEADING STUDENTS IN SIX CURRICULAR FIELDS

The Aryan Literary Society is proud to announce that it will be awarding medals to leading students in six curricular fields. These awards are given to students who have demonstrated exceptional achievement in their studies. The fields are: English, History, Mathematics, Science, Art, and Music. The awards will be presented at a special ceremony during the next semester.

ARYAN

AS the second oldest extra-curricular group on the campus, the Aryan Literary Society is endowed with a wealth of tradition accruing from fifty-five years of active service as a social, intellectual, and literary influence at West Chester.

Much of the intellectual virility and fine cultural spirit now existing here has its roots in the long-standing, friendly rivalry between the Moore and the Aryan Literary Societies. Coming from the old Sanskrit "Arya," meaning "true, loyal, good" and later "noble," the word, Aryan, through an interesting history too long to discuss here, has always denoted those qualities most worthwhile in life. Today it stands for those same values, and the society bearing that name represents all the venerable tradition of an old campus institution.

Through the years the scope of the society has changed somewhat. At first, the society furnished almost half of the college social programs. Later, many other organizations were formed to help in the social programs, and the literary society turned more to intellectual pursuits and to literature. Usually, however, the literary societies have been foremost and unrivaled in actually advancing literature and culture. Their place here is unique and undisputed.

As a further asset to our college, the literary society is a binding agent which holds alumni more closely to Alma Mater than probably any other force.

Leadership is another obvious benefit gained in the societies. The many group functions must have executives, and this naturally provides experience for all who are interested enough to work on the club projects. These projects are mostly social, literary, or dramatic.

Two annual productions are the regular dramatic contribution of the Aryan Literary Society. One is given in the fall and the other in mid-season during Rush Week. "The Romantic Age" and a special arrangement of "Dinner at Eight" were this year's well-received offerings.

As a literary outlet this year the Aryan Ambassador was published in newspaper form. Another issue will probably be published before the semester is over. A column was regularly adopted in Quad Angles, wherein contemporary Aryan pen creations were exhibited.

Sponsoring the only major contests on the campus, the society has offered a gold medal award for the best short story produced by one of its members. It has also created a similar award for each of six outstanding field leaders. The latter awards will be given in recognition of character, leadership, scholarship, and activity.

Membership in the Aryan Literary Society is obtained during Rush Week and is life-time in extent. It represents affiliation with one of the most popular, most traditional, and most characteristic West Chester organizations.

Little Theatre Players

THE Little Theatre group is the only club on the campus devoted exclusively to the study and production of the drama. Every year it presents two plays, a fall and a spring production, and sponsors the Christmas play. In addition, its meetings, during the club hour every first and third Tuesday of the month, are taken up with some sort of dramatic entertainment or discussions concerning the modern stage.

This year has been one of the most successful in the club's history. Attempting a new departure in their manner of play production, the Little Theatre players presented "Journey's End," R. C. Sheriff's mighty argument against war. The play was a serious one, and its unique features was that it had an all-male cast.

In December the club sponsored a Christmas play, "The Gifts," written by Miss Ramsey of the English faculty and directed by Miss Barrer, the faculty adviser of the organization.

The spring presentation of the Little Theatre players was "The Far-Off Hills," a comedy of Ireland with the veneer of laughter and a serious underlying theme. In the future, the club expects to uphold the fine traditions which have made it one of the most respected of campus organizations.

Varsity Club

THE Varsity Club has steadily gained in importance on the campus since it was organized four years ago. Now it is considered one of the more important workers for a "Greater West Chester." Membership is recognized when an athlete has received a varsity award in any sport of intercollegiate competition.

The purpose of the club is to promote good fellowship among the athletes of the college, to stimulate the interest in athletics, and to present awards to those members of the club who have met all the requirements governing the awarding of these honors. The requirements maintain that a member must receive varsity recognition for two years in the same sport. The awards consist of sweaters and gold athletic charms. Since the freshman rule has been recognized at this college, no one will be able to receive an award till the end of his junior year. Juniors are awarded sweaters, and seniors have the choice between the sweater and a gold award.

The club sponsors many activities on the campus for the purpose of securing money to buy awards. This year the club sold athletic programs and presented two dances which were prominent social events of the year. Under the leadership of President Richard Elicker, this organization has had its most successful year, financially and socially. In accordance with the rapid progress of the club in its short lifetime, much can be hoped of this group of athletes in the future

Young Women's Christian Association

THE Y. W. C. A. on our campus reaches and welcomes many young women. Since the purpose of this organization is "to stimulate and develop the spiritual side of college life," it has a vital and enduring effect on all.

The "Y" is purely a student organization in that it is directed by a student president and cabinet and is assisted by faculty members. Even though times may not be at their best, the membership has increased; there are now two hundred and thirty-seven members.

Not only does the Y. W. C. A. sponsor many and varied social activities, but it also carries on many other types of work. Religious meetings are held every Thursday evening at which time we enjoy eminent speakers, poetry-hours, or informal discussions. Once a month the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have a joint meeting in the chapel. Vesper Services, which are given one Sunday a month, are sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The Vesper Choir and other musical organizations on the campus render the program, which is always very impressive.

Young Men's Christian Association

DURING the year the College Y. M. C. A. offered to its members numerous educational and spiritual activities. The lecturers and social functions were only of the best. Among the speakers were Dr. Leon C. Prince, Dr. Jesse Holmes, Dr. Harvey Francis Green, members of the faculty, and ministers and lawyers of the town.

As an orientation to college, the Y. M. C. A. sponsored a three-day Freshman Camp. Here new ideals and inspirations were presented. It was here, also, that the freshmen first adjusted themselves to the new environment, and at the same time made the acquaintance of the upperclassmen and faculty members.

With the dual purpose of presenting high ideals and moral standards and of stimulating the thinking and reasoning powers of the young men, the local organization sent a large number of delegates to the state Y. M. C. A. conference. The experience gained by attending this meeting has proved very beneficial.

Many of the social events sponsored by the group were noteworthy, but the most extraordinary program was the Christmas Party. The "Y" room was appropriately and neatly decorated. The appearance of the room was commended by all, especially by the women students who were privileged to visit it.

Vesper Choir

NO other musical organization on campus can better publish the "Gospel of Music" through song than can the Vesper Choir. Each year it is the aim of the club to reach a higher goal. This year has been no exception, for the type of music selected and the manner in which it was presented have undoubtedly gone far toward establishing a higher level of performance.

The choir's first program was presented very impressively at a fall vesper service. At the annual Christmas Carol Service, three unique and delightful numbers appropriate to the Yuletide season were sung.

In commemoration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of two great masters in the realm of music, an all Bach-Handel program was chosen to feature the Vesper service given during Lenten season. Four public appearances were made by the Vesper Choir. Of these the Spring Concert was the last one.

The club attributes its success to its very able director, Mr. Hausknecht.

Junior Chorus

THE girls of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes of the Music Education Department are the members of the Junior Chorus. This group of sixty-five songsters is one of the foremost musical organizations on the campus. Miss Gertrude K. Schmidt has very capably directed the chorus in several splendid performances with Miss Mary Dormer, a sophomore student, assisting at the piano. Three well-selected numbers were rendered at the Christmas Carol Service. Works of Bach, Tshaikowsky, Burleigh, and Bruch, together with those of other favorite composers, were included in the Vesper Service at which the Junior Chorus was featured. The girls contributed a delightful group of varied numbers to the annual Spring Concert and also joined with the Vesper Choir in singing one selection.

This year a new and interesting project was taken up. Two numbers were sung in their original languages. Schumann's "Marien Wuerchen" was given in German, and "Psyche" by Paladilhe was sung in French. The work of the chorus was very highly commended.

Rural Club

FULFILLING its major objective of preparing for social service in the rural community, the Rural Club has made some interesting studies of national rural life. It is the aim of club members to make these studies as varied as possible in order that students may have a valuable background as future rural teachers.

Among the activities engaged in this year was a series of talks on various phases of national planning. Topics included "The Tennessee Valley Authority," "Rural Rehabilitation," and "The Youth Movement in America." The club was particularly interested in subjects of this nature, as they gave a little preparation for participation in the American Country Life Association meeting which was held in Washington, D. C. Four delegates were sent to this meeting.

Rural activities have gone and are going farther than the campus, however. Several P. T. A. organizations in the county have had the assistance of the Rural Club. The Alumni News Letter takes on a new appearance this year. This publication keeps rural graduates informed about activities of the club, and keeps the club members in touch with problems which alumni have met in teaching.

Science Club

THE Science Club has made much progress this past year in the type of work it had planned. At the beginning of the year a goal of attainment was set up. It was decided to attempt a plan that would enable each member to participate in an activity that would interest him or her most. The plan was to divide the group into several sections. Each division was composed of members interested in a particular branch of science: zoology, botany, chemistry, physics, and nature study. A member of the science faculty assisted and guided each of the groups in the selection and preparation of their activities.

At the end of the first year of this plan the fine results that have been attained can be noted with satisfaction. The work that has been accomplished is convincing proof for the need of a continuation of the plan of operation.

The work that was prepared by the various groups was in the nature of research problems. The groups undertook a problem that provided for the use of various tools of research. These projects delved into a number of interesting aspects which were beyond the scope of an ordinary science course of undergraduate level. A pupil-purposing activity for all the members was accomplished. An opportunity was provided for each member to discover his chief interest within his ability and to explore something of particular interest.

College Criteria

THIS organization is perhaps the only one toward which the attention of everyone has been turned at one time or another. It has demanded attention outside of school as well as on the campus. As an group it enjoys the reputation of being one of the outstanding college dance bands in Pennsylvania. This reputation has been maintained through the abilities of each member in the orchestra, and it is hoped that the organization will continue to carry on, irrespective of the fact that the Senior Class of this year is responsible for five of the members that have made reputable contributions to the organization in the past several years.

Poster Club

THE Poster Club is one of the most active extra-curricular organizations on the campus. It is composed of a group of students who meet once a week in Miss Lamborn's Studio. Its primary aim is to bring current announcements to the students and to advertise important activities on the campus. A two-fold piece of work is done by the club, for not only do its members profit from participation in it, but all other clubs on the campus are boosted by it.

Poster-making is not the only activity of the club. The work is varied in such a way as to give a number of opportunities for contact with various phases of art. These different phases are chosen with regard to the individual interests of club members. Attractive and useful results have been obtained in mirror design, pastel chalk, silver, oil, and water color.

The officers of the club are:

President BETTY SMITH
Secretary THELMA ALBON
Curator JOHN DANDRIDGE

Book Club

THE Book Club, sponsored by the English Department, is one of the most active clubs on the campus. Each year it contributes a number of autographed books to the Philips Memorial Library. Among these books are found the autographs of President Roosevelt, Benito Mussolini, Adolf Hitler, John Galsworthy, Edna St. Vincent Millay, and others. Each semester a contest for creative work is held for the members, in which a book prize is awarded for the most outstanding prose achievement and for the best poetry. Mr. William Baldwin of West Chester is the donor of the prose prize. The meetings are enlivened by discussions, reviews, and talks by outside talent.

Travelers' Club

TRAVELERS' Club is an organization of students who are interested in geography and would like to extend their knowledge in that field. How our everyday manner of living is related to natural conditions is of special interest to Travelers.

Meetings of the Travelers are entertaining as well as educational as they do not seek to conduct them as classes but as presentations of interesting material having a common appeal to all. The unusual and generally unknown practices and customs of our world neighbors are often brought before the club.

By furthering interest and understanding concerning other lands and people, the club is building an appreciation of the interdependence of nations, the need for cooperation, and an international sympathy, which is becoming increasingly necessary for the preservation of world peace.

The Travelers are fortunate in having as faculty advisers, Miss Elliott and Miss Broadhead of the Geography Department, who, with their intimate knowledge of geographic relations, are helping the Travelers achieve their goal of understanding and tolerance.

THE Music Club has been organized to give those students whose interests in music are vocational and those whose interests are avocational an opportunity to perform before an interested group of students and to enjoy music with them.

Dues are taken up each semester, and they constitute a fund which is used to enable some worthy student to continue his study here.

During the fall semester of 1955 the Science Club and Music Club joined for one meeting, at which Dr. McCorkle gave an interesting lecture on acoustics. Another very interesting program given that semester was the Christmas program. It consisted of a series of tableaux depicting parts of the Christmas story. During each scene an appropriate song was sung.

Psychology Club

THE Psychology Club is the newest extra-curricular, departmental organization at West Chester. It owes its origin to a small group of students who desired to investigate and discuss problems of current psychology not touched upon in their regular classes.

The organization officially came into being during the fall semester, 1955. Since that time, its membership has rapidly increased until now it has one of the largest enrollments of students on the campus.

During the past year it has sponsored a child study clinic under the direction of the adviser, Dr. Charles Selzer. In addition to this activity, at many meetings actual laboratory demonstrations of the newest psychological researches are made. Also, at convenient times, excursions to nearby institutions are taken by the club members for the purpose of seeing, first hand, various psychic and neurotic cases. In sponsoring talks by experts in the fields of mental hygiene, psychotherapy, and psychology, the club makes a distinct contribution to the campus at large, since non-club members may attend these latter meetings.

Library Club

THE Library Club has had a number of interesting programs during the year, among them a talk on inexpensive books for children by Miss Collicott, and one on the work of the Children's Room of the West Chester Public Library, given by Mrs. Weeks, the children's librarian there. At another meeting, members of the club read a one-act play called "Bringing Up Nine," a play which shows some of the ways in which a county library can help in a rural community. This was followed by a discussion of the county library movement in Chester County. A Christmas party, held during the noon hour, furnished an opportunity to get acquainted with one another and with the librarians.

All members of the club have been active in work in the library: mounting pictures, keeping shelves in order, filing, helping at the desk, and assisting the librarians in many ways.

Herodotus Club

TREMENDOUSLY appealing and informative programs marked the meetings of the Herodotus Club throughout both semesters of the 1934-35 college year. Larger membership than ever before was the response to this situation. Dr. Heathcote, Dr. Wright, Professor Swope, and Dr. Pleasants—a well-known West Chester historian—were some of the interesting speakers.

Student participation was another feature. Several meetings were marked by excellent contributions of various individuals. Topics of primary importance were thoroughly discussed to the benefit of everyone.

The spirit of good will and informality which continually prevailed made all members feel at ease at each club period, and prepared the way for the members to benefit as much as possible.

Women's Glee Club

THERE are many girls on the campus who, while they are not specializing in music education, are especially interested in music and enjoy taking part in its expression. It is these girls who make up the College Girls' Glee Club, one of the several musical organizations on the campus. Under the direction of Miss Marie M. Heinemann, the club meets every Wednesday evening in the band room of the Philips Memorial Building. Miss Miriam Hoagland was the accompanist this year. The membership of the club is limited to one hundred.

The club presents its annual concert at the close of the first semester. This year the outstanding feature of the concert was the cantata "Alice Brand" by Parker, from the poem by Sir Walter Scott, supplemented by a group of gay and colorful songs. Participation in the beautiful and impressive Christmas Carol service is an activity that is anticipated by the members, and afterwards stored with other lovely memories. The third important event in the club's year is the vesper service in the spring semester. The concert and vesper service divide the work of the year evenly between secular and sacred music.

The large membership and regular attendance of the club are conclusive evidence of the interest and pleasure it holds for its members.

Men's Glee Club

"FELLOWSHIP in song" may be said to be the slogan of the Men's Glee Club, for "it's always fair weather when good fellows get together"; this can most certainly be said of the fellows, thirty in number, who make up the personnel of this organization. They not only like to sing when they get together twice a week, but they carry the gospel of good singing with them into their everyday living, thereby giving others the benefit of their training and doing much for the cause of good music. Men from any department are eligible for membership, and at present there are about an equal number from the Health, Music, Rural and Secondary groups. This has its value in unifying the thought of all groups toward music. This year the State Intercollegiate Glee Club contest was held at our college.

This is the fifth year for the club under its present organization and director, and a reunion was held in May. The program included a full day of activities, beginning with a luncheon at noon for returning alumni, a short rehearsal in the afternoon, as all alumni sang in several of the combined numbers, and then the banquet. The day closed with a gala concert in which many returning soloists took part. A dance in Recreation Hall followed.

Varsity Quartette

THE Varsity Quartette of the Men's Glee Club was organized in the fall of 1952. The original idea in forming it was to add variety to the club programs, but it was early discovered that these four voices sounded and worked so well together that an organization of permanence was immediately established. Furthermore, every glee club has its Varsity Quartette to represent it when it is impossible to employ the use of the full club, and this quartette has truly represented the club on many occasions. The only requirement for membership in this organization is membership in the glee club, and again every department may be represented. However, this year the personnel of the group includes three members in the Health Education course and one in Music Education. The training they have received should be of inestimable value when they are out in the world, even if they use it only as an avocation.

Olympic Club

THE Olympic Club is an organization fostering interest in gymnastics and advanced apparatus work at West Chester. It is the belief of the club members that real benefits are derived from this type of work—benefits which are both mental and physical. The membership of the club is not limited to Health Education students but is open to any one in the school who

1. Takes part in three-fourths of the gym team exhibitions.
2. Has performed in the annual gym meet on any two pieces of apparatus and is placed first, second, or third on at least one.
3. Is unanimously voted into the club.

Secondary Education Club

THE Secondary Education Club, formed in 1924, fosters friendship and spirit among the members of the group which class contacts do not necessarily afford. It is an organization for all secondary education students who desire to learn about and to study some of the outstanding movements in the field of secondary education. During the current year the members have participated in informal talks and panel discussions on topics such as peace movements, junior high school differences from the standpoint of their organization and their effect upon the pupils, extra-curricular activities as correlated with curricular subjects, and the training and experience required in the teaching profession in proportion to the remuneration for the time and energy expended. Since the pupils in junior and senior high schools are adolescents, this club gives particular attention to a review of adolescent problems.

The activities include not only educational projects but also certain social functions. The major ones this year were a Poverty Party in Recreation Hall and "Double Door," a mystery play in three acts.

Host and Hostess Club

WHEN seven hundred people sit down to eat in one dining room, the problem of making it seem "like home" is a real one. The Host and Hostess Club is the student organization on campus which aims to make this dream come true. Its membership is composed of the men and women who serve as hosts and hostesses at the tables in the dining room.

The club sponsors four party dinners during the year for the pleasure of the student body. These are the Hallowe'en party, the Christmas party, the Valentine's Day party, and the Spring party. The decorations are elaborately festive; the entertainments, supplied from student talent, are highly enjoyable; and the menus are always worthy of the occasions.

The Host and Hostess Club plays a significant part in the development of college spirit and good fellowship among the members of the student body.

MEN

THE greatest part of the success of the soccer team goes to our coach Earle C. Waters, for both his ability to teach the sport and for his skillful handling of men. Besides coaching the soccer team, he coaches the gym team and the State Teachers College Championship track team. Before coming to West Chester in 1927, Mr. Waters coached a girls' soccer team at Westhampton, Long Island, which won the county championship for six years. We of the senior class who have learned to know him, treasure our friendship with him and the high standards of life which he has taught us and which he exemplifies by his own life.

We are proud of the high record that the soccer team has made, and we hope that this record may be upheld in the future. The team which now proudly possesses a run of thirty-eight victories over a period of four years, can be matched with the best teams in the country; we feel that without doubt the team this year was the best team in Eastern United States. Comparing scores, we take our 8-0 victory over Lehigh University and compare it with the University of Pennsylvania's 5-0 victory over Lehigh; or Princeton's 1-0 victory over Lehigh or Lehigh's 5-0 victory over Navy. Then we compare our 5-1 victory over Temple with Temple's 1-1 tie with Penn State. The teams of the University of Pennsylvania and Penn State have been rated as the best teams in the East.

OUR SENIORS

Lawson Earl—has played practically every minute of every game for four years; in other words, he has been in all of the thirty-eight straight victories and has never tasted defeat in a West Chester soccer uniform. We doubt if this record will ever be broken.

Paul Koehler—a music student, who in his freshman year could not find time for soccer, but who in his sophomore year played with the junior varsity team. His last two years found him a regular at right halfback.

Henry Donharl—"Heintz" tried football his first year, but a broken shoulder prevented further participation, so he turned to soccer. Starting from scratch, as he had never seen a soccer game before coming to West Chester, he worked his way up through the junior varsity to the varsity squad.

GOLDBERG, SINGER, RANDELL, DONHARL, KOEHLER, TOPPING, MOORE, REES, JONES, COACH WATERS
 HILBERT, BROWN, CARNEY, BRANDOLPH, RUPERT, GWINN, McCALL, LADY, CONARD, EARL

Donald Hilbert—another who never saw a soccer game before coming to West Chester; “Don” spent three years with the junior varsity learning the game; his senior year found him with the varsity.

Laurence Brown—another case identical with Hilbert’s, as Laurence spent three years with the junior varsity and this year with the varsity team.

Leroy Lady—Roy spent his first year with the football squad but found his interest was soccer. In his sophomore year he played with the junior varsity, and in his last two years with the varsity team.

Clarence Jones—came out for soccer in his sophomore year and starred as goal tender for the junior varsity team; in his senior year he was the regular goal tender for the varsity team.

The record our team has made in the past four years has sent its laurels far and wide. Next year will find it a member of the Intercollegiate Soccer Football Association, a membership which will place our team in competition with Penn, Penn State, Syracuse, Princeton, Yale, and similar teams.

Dickinson 3

COACH Earle Water's soccer team had little difficulty with the Dickinson College team. With a team of all experienced men on the field, our boys out-played Dickinson in all departments of the game. Playing on a field of water and mud, the players of both teams found their footing difficult, and it was not long before all were entirely covered with mud. The locals' goals were scored by Rupert, Gwinn, McCall, Moore, and Rees, while Kerstetter scored all three for Dickinson.

West Chester 4

Delaware 1

IN one of the roughest games of the season West Chester beat the University of Delaware by the score of 4-1. The local offense worked to perfection in the first half when it scored three goals in rapid succession. Al Moore headed in the first goal, Dan Rupert scored the second, and Leon Brandolph, the third. Beginning the second half, the Delaware passers surprised the local booters by scoring. Murray, a sub at inside right, managed to get one by goal-tender Singer. McCall scored the final goal for West Chester. Our backfield of Earl, Rees, Conard, Koehler, and Topping again played sterling ball all through the game.

LAWSON FAIR

West Chester 4

Ursinus College 1

TRAVELING to Collegeville, Pennsylvania, our soccer team beat Ursinus College 4-1 on a very windy field. Danny Rupert starred on the offense for the Purple and Gold team by scoring all of the four goals. Our forward line found the going difficult owing to the hard wind, but Al Moore, Al Gwinn, and Bob Rees made some very good passes to Dan Rupert for scores.

LEROY LADY

West Chester 6

Franklin and Marshall 0

PLAYING the game during a light rain, our team beat F. and M. by the score of 6-0 at Lancaster. In the first quarter, Al Gwinn passed across the field in front of the goal to McCall, who drove the ball in for the first score of the game. Al Moore scored the second goal, and the half ended without further scoring, although the Purple and Gold missed a lot of chances for the goal. The second half opened when Dan Rupert scored on a penalty kick. Soon Lawson Earl scored on a pass from Paul Koehler, and in a few minutes Earl scored again on a drive from the field. The final score of the game was made by Don Hilbert. The F. and M. team had only three tries for the goal the whole game. This was due to the fine work of the strong West Chester backfield.

PAUL KOEHLER

West Chester 3

Temple 1

PLAYING its hardest college opponent of the season, our local team came out on top by the score of 3-1. The first half was a nip and tuck encounter with the half ending 1-1 on goals by Rupert and Yum, diminutive Chinese center forward of the Temple team. In the second half our team played inspired ball, and goals by Brandolph and Rupert turned the tide; our team walked off the field with victory number 54 in its run of consecutive victories. This victory matches our team with the best teams in the country, as Penn State, Inter-collegiate champions, beat Temple only by a score of 1-0.

West Chester 8

Lehigh 0

PLAYING on the Bethlehem Steel Company's field, our soccer team scored one of its greatest victories of the season when it handed the Lehigh soccer team an 8-0 defeat. The forward line of Gwinn, Moore, Rupert, Brandolph, and McCall played great soccer to roll up the highest score of the season for the local team. Again our great backfield of Earl, Conard, Koehler, and Rees played wonderful defensive ball to prevent the Lehigh team from scoring.

West Chester 3

Penn Mutual 1

CAPTAIN Dan Rupert led the attack, scoring two goals, and Al Moore, the other goal, as the local booters beat Penn Mutual 3-1. Presenting a far more formidable aggregation than they did last year, when the local team ran through them 14-2, the Penn Mutual presented one of the best teams the locals have faced this year. The victory today stood out because the Penn Mutual team holds three victories over the University of Pennsylvania this season, and Penn claims one of the best teams in the East.

West Chester 2

Ardmore Cricket Club 1

THE Ardmore Cricket Club came to Wayne field and threw a genuine scare into the Purple and Gold booters when they forced the locals to give every effort to eke out a too close 2-1 victory. Ardmore presented a group of former high school and college stars, and also Rudolph, star fullback for West Chester last year and captain elect for this year, who was unable to return to school. Time and time again he broke up the local attack and booted the ball out of danger. He was a thorn in the side of the Watersmen during the entire game. Al Moore scored the first goal for W. C. on a long boot up the field from Lawson Earl, while Danny Rupert's penalty kick late in the game was the margin of victory for West Chester.

LAURENCE BROWN

HENRY DONIHALL

West Chester 5

Merion Cricket Club 1

THE local soccer team again showed its strength when it had the ball in scoring distance the whole game, and only good defensive work on the part of the two fullbacks of Merion and the wonderful playing of the goal-tender kept the score down. The Purple and Gold team scored five times during the game; the goals were made by Koehler, Moore, Dan Rupert, Heintz, Donharl, and Don Hilbert. Our great backfield of Topping, Earl, Rees, Conard, and Koehler played its greatest game of the season, when it prevented the Merion team from getting near our goal. So strong was this defense that our goal-tender did not have a goal kick during the whole game.

West Chester 5

Philadelphia Referees 1

RIDING the crest of an undefeated wave, the Purple and Gold soccer team wound up its season on Wayne Field by swamping the Philadelphia Referees by the score of 5-1. The Philadelphia Referees are an organization of professional referees and former professional players from Scotland and England, and each one is an individual star, but the great teamwork of the locals was too much for them. This victory was the eleventh straight of the season, and West Chester's thirty-eighth consecutive triumph in as many starts. The first half saw the Watersmen having control of the ball every minute. Taking advantage of every scoring opportunity, Leon Brandolph, freshman star from Girard College, was the individual star of the game, scoring four goals. Al Moore drove in the other tally for the local team as the first half closed. In the second half Coach Waters put in all his substitutes, and during this half the Referees scored their lone goal.

COACHES

FOOTBALL

COACH Glen Killinger is a graduate of Penn State, where he was a three letter man in football, basketball, and baseball, and was selected as quarterback on Walter Camp's All-American Team of 1921. Since graduation he has played professional baseball and has been widely known as a managing player with the Harrisburg Senators, Williamsport Greys, and Allentown Buffaloes, in the N.Y.P. League. He has coached at Dickinson, Polytechnic Institute, and Moravian College. This is his first year at West Chester State as head football and baseball coach.

OUR SENIORS

Joseph Guarini. Joe is one of the fastest men to ever wear a Purple and Gold suit. He has played as a regular through three years; injuries preventing his participation this year.

Harry Sweikert, captain of the team for the past two years, is a graduate of Wm. Penn High School in Harrisburg, where he also served as captain of football. Through four years Harry has played in every game, both at tackle and end, leaving behind him a great record.

Frank Bennett came to us from Bethlehem High School. Through four years he has played a great defensive game at both center and guard. Frank lingers in our memory as the one who scored the touchdown that beat Albright College 6-0.

Richard Elicker is another from Wm. Penn High School in Harrisburg. Being one of the lightest men on the squad, Dick suffered many injuries which kept him out of games, but he always came back to help the team. No player has shown more spirit than Dick.

John Weber came to us from Perkiomen Prep. Injuries kept Jack out of many games, but without a doubt he was one of the best triple threat men on our team.

Ted Satterfield is from West Catholic High School in Philadelphia. Although not considered a regular, Red was always sent into every game, and he was one of the most dependable men on the squad.

Joseph Quinn came from Phoenixville High School. Joe came to us as an unknown and had to fight his way up through the J.V. team; in his last year he developed into one of the best ends ever to play at West Chester.

Howard Horrocks is from Collegeville High School. "Pop" played through four years of varsity football, and the coach considered him the brainiest man on the team. We shall remember him for his great playing against the All-American Randour in the Villanova game.

Muhlenberg 0

HARRY SWEIKERT, Captain

OPENING the 1954 season before the largest crowd ever to witness a West Chester team in action, Glenn Killinger's team played "perfect" football to beat Muhlenberg 9-0, under the floodlights at the Allentown stadium. The first score of the game came in the fourth period, after a first half of nip and tuck football with neither team getting inside the 20 yard line. In the middle of the fourth quarter, Nye called for a pass, and Remcho, standing on the 50 yard line, threw a pass to Nye, who outguessed two big Muhlenberg linemen, when he jumped high in the air and came down with the ball on the 5 yard line. On the next play Robinson went through left tackle for a touchdown. Immediately Coach Killinger sent Bob McNelly into the game to kick the extra point, and his sure foot did not fail, making the score 7-0. Muhlenberg's spirit was broken, and it was not long before Sweikert and Remorenko blocked a punt on the 20 yard line, and the ball rolled out over the end zone for a safety, making the score 9-0.

The highlights of the game were Clark's punting, Nye's perfect calling of plays, Captain Sweikert's and E. Fuoss's defense work, Weber's blocking, and the offensive work of Taronis.

Drexel 0

THE second game of the season was played in a sea of mud, which hindered the offensive power of the W. C. grid machine in rolling up a larger score; W. C. 6, Drexel-0. This victory evened up a six game series with Drexel, West Chester having won the first two games by the scores of 12-0 and 15-0, with the Dragons taking the next three, 12-0, 18-6, and 15-7. The first half was a nip and tuck battle with neither team being able to get in scoring distance. Soon after the third quarter opened, Captain Sweikert recovered a Drexel fumble on the Dragon 40 yard line. On the next play Clark and Remorenko opened up the enemy line long enough for Johnny Taronis to pass through and slip away for a touchdown. Putsavage made a perfect block on Wirth of Drexel to prevent him from halting Taronis's sensational run. Taronis certainly has done himself proud on the Drexel field. Last year his 65 yard runback of a punt for a touchdown almost turned defeat into victory; but his 55 yard scamper through the line for six points in this game was the margin of victory.

Although the first downs were even, at six apiece, West Chester outgained the losers, 122 yards to 97. The Teachers had a big edge in the punting, the result of splendid kicking of its freshman end, Walter Clark. Captain Sweikert followed the ball like a hawk. Twice he recovered enemy fumbles, and just after Taronis had scored, he intercepted a pass, thereby removing his teammates from an embarrassing position with Drexel on the W. C. 20 yard line.

West Chester 0 Pennsylvania Military College 20

BEFORE a crowd of six thousand spectators, the West Chester gridders suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of Jud Timm's great grid machine. West Chester displayed its best defensive work in the initial period by constantly repelling the Cadets' steady march toward the Teachers' goal, but the deceptive running plays and successful forward passing of Captain Pollock and his big red team were too much for the local team. In the second quarter Malinski of P. M. C. ran 17 yards for the first score of the game. Shortly after the third quarter started, McFadden thrilled the crowd with a sensational 60 yard run to make the second tally for the visitors. A few minutes after the second touchdown Captain Pollock scored from the 1 yard line after a successful march up the field by the Cadets. In this game Mike Hudicka played one of the best games of his career when he repeatedly broke up P. M. C. plays behind the line of scrimmage.

West Chester 0

LaSalle College 6

BEFORE a large Annual Family Reunion Day crowd, West Chester lost its second game of the season to the strong LaSalle College team 6-0. During the whole first quarter the Purple and Gold men were the aggressors and carried the ball into the Explorers' territory several times. However, every attempt to place the ball in scoring position was met by a well-developed impenetrable defense. Several fine, long punts by Knox were a great help to the visitors in driving the Teachers back to midfield. Near the end of the first half, LaSalle made several first downs in succession, and then with fourth down and 14 yards to go, the veteran Ray Bahr stood on his 50 yard line and threw a pass to Felix Kadlubosky, who caught the ball on the 5 yard line; all he had to do was to step over the goal line for the only score of the game. This play for the score was an exact duplication of the play that LaSalle used last year to beat the Teachers by the same score—history repeating itself.

Though LaSalle copped the verdict and was the aggressor throughout the major part of the fray, it was Quarterback Dick Nye who provided the fans with their greatest thrills. Twice during the game the former John Harris High ace broke away for runs which nearly turned the tide in favor of the Purple and Gold. The highlight of Nye's performance was a 60 yard dash to LaSalle's 9 yard line in the final five minutes of play.

West Chester 51

Lock Haven S. T. C. 0

THE West Chester football team broke into the winning column again when it tore through the line of a fighting Lock Haven team and crushed its way to a powerful 51-0 victory. The team from the northern part of the state never had a chance against Glenn Killinger's smooth working machine. Thrills galore marked the apparently one-sided contest. Every man on the West Chester team starred during the game, and every man did his duty in every play. The line broke up the Lock Haven plays time after time during the afternoon. The first score of the game came as the result of a 55 yard run for a touchdown by Millard Robinson. Other scores came quickly and all on long runs: John Taronis made two touchdowns, and Dick Nye and Sarge Clark each made one for a total of five touchdowns for the afternoon. Joe Quinn played an excellent game at end. He was down under every punt, and several times tackled the Lock Haven receivers just as they caught the ball.

TED SATTERFIELD

West Chester 12

Western Maryland 35

PLAYING one of the best teams in the country and trying to stop its All-American candidate, Bill Shepherd, were too much for West Chester, and it went down to defeat by the score of 35-12. Bill Shepherd, who led the country in scoring with 150 points, gathered 29 points against the Teachers, when he scored four touchdowns, and kicked five points after touchdowns. Soon after the game started, Shepherd ran around left end for 25 yards for the initial score of the game. After the kickoff and a few plays, West Chester was threatening on the Southerners' 28 yard line, and Robinson got loose around left end to Western Maryland's five yard line. A pass, Taronis to Sarge Clark, was good for a touchdown, and the old line of the Southerners was scored on for the first time this year. From this point the game was mostly Shepherd, as he ran wild against the Teachers for three more touchdowns. West Chester scored again late in the game when Rogo dashed down the field for 50 yards, and Steckbeck plunged over the goal line.

JOE QUINN

West Chester 71

Millersville S. T. C. 0

SCORING almost at will, Glenn Killinger's Purple and Gold warriors rolled up the largest score ever made by a West Chester team on the gridiron when they licked Millersville S. T. C. 71-0. Eleven times the Teachers marched down the field, and eleven times they crossed the goal line for touchdowns. The local team passed, rushed, blocked, and kicked with such effectiveness that their hosts never had a chance, despite their game resistance. Eight of the touchdowns were scored by backfield men and three by linesmen. Millard Robinson scored three, and Angelo Taronis, Slattery, Martin, Quinn, Steckbeck, Weber, and Lott each, one. Lott, playing center, intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards for his score. Slattery duplicated this feat when he also intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards.

West Chester 7

Western State Teachers 15

IN their first intersectional engagement in the history of the West Chester College, the Teachers lost a hard fought game to the Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo, Michigan 15-7. A dazzling passing attack was the chief weapon used by the Kalamazoo club, and clicking twice, it gave the Western Teachers their ultimate edge. All the Western points were scored before West Chester made any mark on the scoring records. Trailing 15-0 in the final period, Killinger's crew staged a sensational rally, and after marching 70 yards for one touchdown, when Angelo plunged over the goal line, they were deep in the territory of their opponents when the final gun was sounded. Brilliant runs and passes by Weber, Clevio Rogo, Robinson, and John Taronis featured the drives made by the Teachers. West Chester missed its second scoring chance when Robinson fumbled on the 1 yard line.

BASKETBALL 1934-1935

THE basketball team again gave West Chester a record to be proud of, twelve wins and five losses. The only games lost were two games to St. Joseph's College, two games to Villanova College, and one to Millersville S. T. C. by one point. During four years, six members of the senior class have played together and represented West Chester on the wooden way, under the coaching of Howard A. Wescott. These men, who have left a record behind them, are Preston Beaver and Emil Messikomer, co-captains this year; Lawson Earl, captain last year; Charles Howard, Charles Howells, and Richard Elicker.

Co-captain Preston Beaver played as a substitute in his freshman year, but in his last three years he developed into one of the best defensive basketball men ever to play at West Chester.

Co-captain Emil Messikomer has been one of the most consistent men on the team, playing through four years and always being dependable. In his junior year he led the team in scoring with 85 points.

Lawson Earl, captain in his junior year, has played in every game for four years, a total of seventy-two games, and has set a record for himself by scoring in every one.

Charles Howard was very inexperienced in his first year, but under Coach Wescott he developed into one of the best offensive men to represent West Chester. This year was the best that Charley had during his four years when he led the team in scoring with 112 points.

Charles Howells was used as a substitute in his first three years, but this year found him one of the regulars. Next to Charley Howard, "Tabby" was the best offensive man on the team.

Richard Elicker played through four years as a substitute but saw action in almost every game. Dick showed the same fighting spirit on the basketball floor that he showed through four years of football.

Coach, H. WESCOTT

Henry Donharl, our manager, did a very commendable job this year and proved to be the most efficient manager West Chester ever had. The coach of the Drake University team, as it neared the end of its three thousand mile basketball trip, remarked, "The treatment we received here was the best on our trip, and I want to compliment the West Chester manager, Donharl."

EARL MESSIKOMER
Co-Captain

West Chester 51

Lehigh 15

Setting a blistering pace throughout forty minutes of high-speed basketball, Coach Howard A. Wescott's smoothly-gearred West Chester Teachers College quintet launched its 1954-55 campaign with a 51-15 victory over Lehigh University. Henry, a forward, was the only Lehigh performer credited with more than one field goal. His two double-deckers and two accurate throws from the foul mark enabled him to account for six of his team's fifteen points. Howard, Earl, and Maschinsky were the leaders of the W. C. attack.

West Chester 25

Randolph-Macon 20

In the first time in its history, West Chester played a basketball team from below the Mason-Dixon line, the victim being Randolph-Macon of Ashland, Virginia. The star of this game was Al Gwinn, who was put into the game in the last few minutes and came through with three field goals to pull the West Chester team through with a victory. Lawson Earl led the W. C. scoring with seven points.

West Chester 51

Washington College 19

Behind 7-0 after ten minutes of play, the West Chester attack gathered momentum at such a rate that it reached its peak before the end of the first half. Thus, the local team scored its third consecutive basketball victory at Chestertown, Maryland. Scoring honors of the evening went to Charlie Howard, with Preston Beaver a close second. Howard accounted for nine points, and Beaver, who also played a great defensive game, came through with eight.

LAWSON EARL

West Chester 55

Drake University 29

Playing Drake University of Des Moines, Iowa, the local team registered its fourth victory of the year. Again Al Gwinn came to the rescue when he was sent into the game for Messikomer in the last three minutes, and dropped two field goals into the basket from the middle of the floor, which enabled W. C. to break the tie and go on to victory. Charlie Howard led the West Chester attack with fourteen points, and Lawson Earl gave a great defensive feature when he shut out Billy McCloud, Drake's ace forward, from afield.

PRESTON BEAVER
Co-Captain

West Chester 37

Delaware 27

Coach Howard A. Wescott's team hung up its fifth consecutive victory at the expense of Delaware University before fifteen hundred fans in the Ehinger gymnasium, 37-27. The game was featured by the brilliant play of Frank Maschinsky, veteran Purple and Gold pivot performer. Maschinsky not only set the scoring pace with his mates, but also played a classy passing game and was a tower of strength on the defense. His scoring total was fourteen points, garnered through the medium of four field goals and six conversions in as many trips to the penalty mark.

West Chester 13

Villanova 19

The five-game winning streak sported by Coach Wescott's courtmen was brought to an abrupt halt as the Villanova College team launched its season with a 19-13 victory over the Purple and Gold before a crowd of two thousand fans in the Ehinger gym. The game, featuring brilliant defensive play by both clubs, was packed with thrills from the start to finish. At the half time Villanova held a slim 9-7 lead. Inaccuracy at the foul mark was costly to the local team as it put in only five out of thirteen tries.

West Chester 46

Kutztown S. T. C. 26

All of the members of Coach Wescott's varsity squad were given a workout as the Purple and Gold regained its winning stride with a 46-26 victory at Kutztown. Charlie Howard, high-scoring forward of the varsity combination, set the scoring pace for the local team. Five goals from afield gave him a total of ten points. Frank Maschinsky, regular center, and "Tabby" Howells, sub forward, stood second in scoring with eight points.

West Chester 18

St. Joseph's College 31

The second excursion of the Teachers into the ranks of Philadelphia's leading collegiate court combinations was even more disastrous than was its first. Nosed out by Villanova in a close battle here, the Teachers had visions of a more alluring fate when they met St. Joseph's in Kenney Hall, Philadelphia, but the locals lost to the team that beat the University of Pennsylvania earlier in the season. The Teachers failed to check Guokas, the St. Joe center man who counted for 13 points. Howard and Earl led the Purple and Gold scoring with six points each.

West Chester 37

Millersville S. T. C. 22

Coach Wescott used his entire squad of fifteen players in this game, but the first five were far superior to the Millersville team; therefore, the second five played most of the game, the outcome of which was never in doubt. A pair of substitutes, "Bernie" Goldberger at a guard post, and "Tabby" Howells, a forward, carried off scoring honors in routing the Millers. Goldberger scored nine points and Howells seven.

West Chester 27

Villanova 35

West Chester's quest for vengeance came to a sorry end at the Villanova College gym on the Main Line, when the Teachers, for the second time this season, went down to defeat at the hands of the fast-stepping Wildcat courtmen. As in the initial clash and the game last year, six points again separated the embattled teams at the termination of hostilities. Howard was the scoring star for W. C. when he found the basket for seven points near the end of the game. Beaver was the defensive star until he was "fouled" out in the fourth quarter.

West Chester 40

Western Maryland 22

With even greater ease than that displayed by Western Maryland in winning over West Chester at football last fall, the Purple and Gold bowled over the Green Terrors in a one-sided game 40-22. "Tabby" Howels carried off scoring honors for the Teachers with four field goals and two penalty conversions, giving him a ten-point total. The four other men of the starting line-up, Howard, Maschinsky, Beaver, and Earl, were also prominent figures in the point production. "All American" Bill Shepherd, a truly great football player, inserted as a substitute, played a mediocre brand of basketball and scored but twice.

TABBY HOWELLS

West Chester 22

St. Joseph's College 25

The Hawks from Philadelphia downed the Teachers in one of the fastest games played on the local court. It was not until the last three minutes of the contest that the visitors were able to break the deadlock and cop the victory.

The Purple and Gold held a lead of 12-11 at half time and a 20-14 lead at the middle of the second half, but could not hold it. Charlie Howard again led the scoring with eight points.

West Chester 28

Millersville S. T. C. 29

West Chester's court minions encountered a surprise setback at the hands of Millersville on their little box-like court. The score was 28-27 when Soeder shot for the basket. The ball went through the basket as the gun ended the game, giving the victory to the Millers, 29-28. Millard Robinson and Lawson Earl paced the West Chester attack with ten and eight points respectively.

West Chester 31

Pennsylvania Military College 26

Wiping out the Cadets' half-time lead with a decisive rally in the final chapter of a keenly-waged battle, Wescott's courtmen played one of their best games of the season to humble P. M. C. by a 31-26 count. "Tabby" Howells hit the cords for seven points and sparkled in every department of play. Earl and Beaver played steady defensive ball all the way.

West Chester 28

University of Delaware 22

The Teachers won their second game of the season from the Delaware Mudhens at Newark by the score of 28-22. The initial period was characterized by outstanding defensive playing on the part of both teams, and the half ended 10-10. During the second half the spirited offensive drive launched by the Purple and Gold placed the Teachers out in front by six points. Preston Beaver led in scoring with ten points on a field goal and eight out of eight free throws.

West Chester 29

Pennsylvania Military College 21

Outplaying its opponents in every department, the local basketball team annexed the second of its two games with P. M. C. by the score of 29-21. With Lawson Earl turning in what many regarded as one of the greatest games played on the local floor, the Teachers chalked up their eleventh victory of the year. Earl held his man to a lone point, and then went on a scoring spree with five field goals and three fouls for thirteen points.

West Chester 46

Kutztown S. T. C. 31

Playing their last game of the season, the Teachers chalked up victory number twelve against five defeats for the season when they beat Kutztown S. T. C. 46-31. This game marked the last for six seniors who have served four years on the court: Lawson Earl, Preston Beaver, Emil Messikomer, Charles Howard, Charles Howells, and Richard Elicker. Howard ended this game with a high score of seventeen points.

Individual scoring records for the season: Charlie Howard 112; Lawson Earl 89; Frank Maschinsky 76; Preston Beaver 69; Charles Howells 55.

FRANK MASCHINSKY
Captain-elect

Freshman Basketball Team

UNDER the direction of Coach Monroe MacLean, the freshman basketball team presented a record of eight wins against six losses. The outstanding player on the team was "Sarge" Clark, who, besides leading the team in scoring, proved to be the best all-around player. Jack Hinchey, who played with Lower Merion's Championship team of last year, was another outstanding player. "Big" Ed Remorenko, 6'-4" center, gave a very good account of himself as did Leon Brandolph, a forward, who was captain of the Girard College team last year. Dick Nye, varsity football quarterback, joined the team late in the season, but soon won a berth in the starting line-up and showed more fight than any other man.

TRACK and FIELD

THE Purple and Gold track and field team under the leadership of co-captains James McLaughlin and Al Knabb, has been one of the best balanced teams in the college's history. The present schedule was branded the "toughest" ever attempted by the sprinters and weight men; four dual opponents, Villanova, Albright, Delaware, and Washington College, supplied ample opposition in themselves, although an invitation meet on May first and the annual State Teachers College track and field championships were the feature events of the schedule.

The following members of the senior class have brought honor and glory both to themselves and to their college.

James McLaughlin. Jimmy led the team as captain in his junior year; this year he is co-captain. During four years he was the leading point winner of the team, always adding from eight to fifteen points to the team's score in every dual meet. Each year found Jimmy a member of the college mile relay team at the Penn Relay games. He also holds the college record in the 100-yard dash in ten seconds and the college broad jump record of twenty-two feet, six inches.

Al Knabb. Co-captain Knabb is the greatest distance runner ever to represent West Chester. Al holds the school record in the mile run in four minutes thirty-two seconds, and also the two mile run record in ten minutes and three seconds. The greatest achievement of his brilliant career was in the Penn Relay games last year when he won the 5000 meter steeplechase run. Running in mud and rain, Al covered the distance in ten minutes and twelve seconds, only a few seconds slower than the carnival record made by J. McCluskey of Fordham.

Manager BOB GERNER

John Geib. Although John did not come out for track until his junior year, he developed into a great hurdler, and consistently ran the high hurdles within one-tenth of a second of the college record.

Charles Howells. Through four years "Tabby" has been the best pole vaulter in the college, and Coach Waters could always count on his adding points for the team's score.

Joseph Guarini. Joe has the honor of being co-holder of the college record in the 220-yard dash in the fast time of twenty-two seconds and one tenth. He was also a member of the college mile relay team in the Penn Relay Carnival.

AL KNABB

BASEBALL

THE "National" game on the West Chester campus will be guided by Coach Glenn Killinger, who, with his ability and experience and the material on hand, should produce a great baseball team. After graduating from Penn State, Coach Killinger had a tryout with the World Championship team, the New York Yankees; later he acted as playing manager with the Harrisburg Senators, Williamsport Greys, and Allentown Buffaloes in the N.Y.P. League.

At first base, Coach Killinger will have "Heintz" Donharl, who played his first year of varsity baseball last year and led the team in hitting with an average of .540. At second base will be Walter Wilson, captain of the team, and one of the best defensive fielders in college ranks, besides being a constant threat with the bat. John Taronis and Henry Springer are the experienced maskmen. Both saw lots of action last year. Shortstop will be taken care of by one of the best players to represent West Chester on the diamond; namely,

Al Gwinn. "Sherry" Barnes, sophomore hurler, P. Beaver and M. Robinson are the chief hold-over moundsmen. Barnes, as a freshman, pitched several good games last year against some of the strongest college baseball teams of the East. Veteran flychasers include Emil Messikomer, Bob Rees, Charles Forbes, Bob McNelly and Clevio Rogo.

Looking back over last year's record, we find the team won five games and lost five with the highlight being a victory over the University of Michigan by the score of 11-9. They presented two All-American football players in their line-up, "Whitey" Wistert and Ted Petoskey, and this was just to the liking of "Heintz" Donharl, who broke up the game by cleaning the bases with a long double.

This year the lid will be pried off on April eighteenth with Susquehanna University as the opposition.

CROSS COUNTRY

TO Captain Al Knabb goes the honors of being the best cross country man ever to wear a spiked shoe for West Chester State Teachers College. During four years Al Knabb led the team to victory after victory, and during his last two years he led the team as captain. Knabb never tasted defeat in a cross country run, until he met Stan Wudyka in the last meet of the season. Wudyka, running for Temple University, led Knabb to the tape by several yards.

The Cross Country team has lost only one meet in the past four years; that one was to Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Members of the team also brought credit to the college in several street runs this year. Knabb finished second in the Camden run, tenth in the Lansdale run, and nineteenth in the Berwick run. Ed Otwell finished second in the Germantown Boys' Club run; Hoopes, eighth; and Savage, sixteenth.

TENNIS

PLAYING as hard a schedule as any team on our campus, the tennis squad always presents an excellent record of activity. Two years ago our team was undefeated, playing Haverford, P. M. C., Delaware, Temple, College of Osteopathy, Villanova, College of Pharmacy and Drexel. Last year against the same schedule the team won seven games and lost three. With the same team back from last year, our squad should present an even better record.

For the second year the team is captained by Lawson Earl and managed by William Lewis.

GYM TEAM

THIS year marks the fourth season that our college has been represented by a Gym team. Coach Earle Waters' proteges have given exhibitions at Lancaster, York, Bethlehem, Harrisburg, Spring City, and Lebanon. While most of the exhibitions of strength and skill are on the various pieces of apparatus, the clown team of Jimmy Singer and Ted Topping always carries the show on in a humorous strain. Exhibitions on the parallel bars are taken care of very skilfully by McLaughlin, Stamper, Brown, Kofke and Elrick, while the tap and clog dance arrangements are composed of Geib, Wyatt, Satterfield, and McLaughlin. Performers on the spring-board are Conard, Satterfield, Wyatt, and White, while work on the horse is presented by Downin, Ralph Fuoss, Ted Satterfield, and Mead McMillen.

These exhibitions are always well received, and each school visited this year requested a return engagement of the team for next year.

During the latter part of the year, the team sponsors a competitive gym meet open to all men students. A performer may work on any two pieces of apparatus, and those winning points in this meet are eligible for the Olympic Club.

The captain of this year's team is Jimmy McLaughlin, one of the best performers this school has developed.

Members of the Senior Class who say good-bye to the Gym Team are McLaughlin, Geib, Guarini, Satterfield, Wyatt, White, Brown, Hilbert, McMillen, and Stamper.

INTRA-MURAL CHAMPIONS

INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL

UNDER the supervision and direction of Henry Donharl, Robert Gerner, and Howard Horrocks, an intramural basketball league was organized last year, giving physical activity to one hundred men. This year the same three men carried out an even larger physical program with over one hundred and thirty men participating. All of the credit of the success of this program goes to Donharl, Gerner, and Horrocks, members of this year's senior class.

SWIMMING TEAM

FOR the second year our college has been represented by a Swimming team under the guidance of Coach MacLean, successor to Mr. A. W. Thompson. This season's team does not have an outstanding star to represent it as it did last year in Rugerio Flocco, a national low-board diving champion, but it presents a group of well-blanced performers. The most dependable men in the meets this year were Wyatt, in the sprints; Kent, in diving; Merrick, in the breast stroke; and McNabb, in the backstroke. The team is managed by Charles Conard, a diver and long distance swimmer.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

W. A. A. MEMBERS

Women's Athletic Association

THE Women's Athletic Association is an athletic club for all women students desiring to participate in wholesome recreational activities. For the year 1934-1935 W. A. A. boasted a membership of one hundred and thirty women.

The club meets the third Wednesday of each month, at which time business or problems relative to the club are brought up and discussed. Frequently the meetings are of a social nature; there may be an entertainment by a group of girls or participation in a number of games by everyone. At the meeting held in January, the Junior Health Education boys entertained by teaching folk dances to the entire group. After the dances they served refreshments. During the various festive seasons the social programs are fitted to the holiday.

The club sponsors all those games which are the favored sports for women. During the past school year the activities offered were hockey, tennis, archery, swimming, volleyball, basketball, mass volleyball, hiking, modern and clog dancing, ping-pong, shuffleboard, handball, hand tennis, bowling, and darts. Tournaments for hockey, tennis, archery, volleyball, and basketball are held during the seasons each is played. In addition to these activities, the W. A. A. offers to all college students recreational games, roller skating, and dancing on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights.

MISS LEACH

The club has a point system whereby a certain number of points are given for participation and skill in the various sports. The highest award given for points earned is a blazer. The other awards are a pin, letters, and numerals. These awards are presented at a banquet held at the end of the school year.

W. A. A. originated in 1950 through the efforts of Miss Myra Wade. Since that time Miss Wade and Miss Leach have been the club advisers. Not only has the organization made considerable advances in growth of membership, but it has also increased the variety of sports offered to women and the entire student body. It is hoped that in the near future it may succeed in securing every woman student as a member and carry out its slogan, "A sport for every girl, and every girl a true sportswoman."

THE Women's Athletic Association Council consists of officers, managers, and the two advisers of the club. The officers are a president, vice-president, secretary, and a treasurer. The managers regulate the sports during the season in which the sport of which she is manager is active. There is a manager for hockey, archery, hiking, tennis, volleyball, swimming, basketball, winter sports, and dancing. A publicity manager in addition to the above takes care of all articles written in the college paper which are relative to the club and does any necessary advertising.

W. A. A. is a member of the Women's Division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, an organization which advocates "A sport for every girl, and every girl a true sportswoman," from which the club slogan is taken.

In all activities during the past year, W. A. A. has achieved a growth in the number of participants, an increase in the number of activities offered, and, above all, a higher quality of play.

Academic Basketball Champions

THIS was the second year the Academic and the Health Education basketball were run separately, and again it proved successful. In the Academic tournament four teams competed, an increase of one team over that of last year, indicating an added enthusiasm for the sport.

Two of the teams were Gold teams and two were Purple. The same was true of the four Health Education teams. To the Gold belonged the Stooges, Nesbiteers, Freshmen, and Seniors; to the Purple, the Grispurs, Purple Flashes, Sophomores, and Juniors. At the close of the tournament these teams decided which participants would represent its color team. The group chosen to represent each team played the final game of the season, which was won by the Purple. Because the participants were of such varied groups, the game proved both interesting and enjoyable. It brought about a unity among all eight teams which had never before been felt.

Health Education Basketball Champions

THE basketball tournament, like that of hockey, was run according to "Round Robin" type, each of the four teams playing three games. The officiating was done by junior and senior health education women.

The two court game using the center throw-in was played throughout both the Health Education and the Academic tournaments. It is conceded to be a faster game and has more possibilities for a variety of plays than does the three court game. This method of playing is becoming more popular every year.

All games were played according to schedule, not one having to be postponed or forfeited. A game won counted two points for the winner. Had any games resulted in a tie, one point would have been awarded each team.

The Freshman Health Education group deserves credit for its excellent playing. Although it won all its games, those games were not won easily. The three remaining teams were tied for second place.

Hockey Champions

DURING the fall of 1954 the hockey classes and tournament were run almost entirely by students under the management of the Women's Athletic Association. The schedule for games was arranged by the W. A. A. hockey manager, and the Junior Health Education class officiated for all the games. The "Round Robin" type tournament was used. Both Health Education and Academic students were entered in the same tournament.

The sport was so popular that tournament games were played regardless of weather. Two of the biggest games of the season—the Sophomores vs. Juniors and Seniors vs. Freshmen—were played amidst a downpour of rain. The teams were well matched, and the possible results of the games could not be anticipated.

The Freshman Health Education team is to be congratulated for its excellent playing. The Senior and Sophomore Health Education teams had a real battle for second place.

It is to be hoped that future Hockey tournaments will be as successful as that of 1954.

Valkyrie Club

THE Valkyrie Club was organized for the purpose of promoting the art of dancing. During the school year 1954-1955 it has made a marked advancement in the expression of the Modern Dance.

This club includes in its membership the Health Education girls of the three upper classes. Each year any new members desiring to join the Valkyries are subject to a formal initiation and then acceptance to membership by former members. Following this initiation, the club holds an informal initiation which takes the form of a supper hike and entertainment by the new members. For the purpose of its own pleasure the club holds meetings which are often social in nature. Frequent trips to Philadelphia for worthwhile entertainment are planned.

Formerly, instruction and participation in the dancing class were for members alone. This year, with the cooperation of the Women's Athletic Association, the club opened its class in modern dancing to any other women students desiring to participate, a preliminary test being taken for entrance. The class met twice a week for instruction. For the appreciation and entertainment of the entire student body a recital was given at the close of the year. Credit is due Miss Anne Schaub, adviser and instructor of the club, for her cooperation and interest.

It is the desire of the Valkyrie Club to bring to the students an appreciation of the beauty of the dance and a realization of its true value.
